Coming Street Block to Close for Stormwater Tunnel Repair

Charleston, S.C.—Coming Street between Bull and Wentworth Streets will close to traffic tomorrow, Tuesday, March 19, 2019, beginning at 8 a.m. while repairs are made to a collapsed stormwater tunnel brick archway. Public Service department officials will reopen one lane of traffic as soon as possible, hopefully during the day Wednesday.

B&C Utilities discovered the collapsed archway after performing an inspection of the road and determined the emergency repairs were needed.

City of Charleston Director of Public Service Tom O'Brien said, "As always, the safety of our citizens is our first concern with these matters, and we will work to repair and reopen the road as soon as it is safe to do so."
