- Along with a Color Change Form, a completed Board of Architectural Review (BAR) application is required. However, if the proposed color matches the existing color, only the BAR application is necessary.
- Any anticipated repairs or replacements to architectural elements intended to be painted/stained must be clearly stated in the scope of work section on the BAR application. Photographs of these elements may also be required.
- For custom colors, color swatches must be provided as part of the submission.
- The painting of unpainted masonry (brick, stone, stucco, etc.) requires Board-level approval.*
